GROWTH OF METROPOLITAN AREAS

Early returns from the Census Bureau indicate there are some 180 million of us living in the United States, a gain of over 17 per cent since the last census in 1950. Chart, (left), shows that this is becoming a nation of suburbanites (suburbs leaped by some 17 million). As chart, (right), indicates, metropolitan areas on the whole gained population, but this was mostly accounted for by growth of the suburbs. Biggest news was the decline of many of the older central cities—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, for example. Average growth rate of cities, however, about matched that of rural or nonurban areas.

Castro Angry, Threatens New Confiscations

1 Killed, 17 Missing; Navy Blimp Crumples

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — A huge Navy blimp crumpled in the air on a search mission Wednesday and crashed "like a sagging banana" into the ocean off the New Jersey coast.

One airman was killed and 17 feared lost in the sunken wreckage.

Three crewmen survived. They were picked up by several boats under fishing on the calm Atlantic under sunny skies.

The Navy said it was mystified as to the cause of the disaster. One of the survivors said a helium line may have ruptured causing the sausage-like bag to collapse.

The Doris May III reached the scene three minutes after the 403-foot blimp fell limply into the water.

"It looked like a sagging banana. Then it crumpled and came down in a hurry," said Frank Mikuletzky, 19, of Barnegat Light, a mate aboard the fishing vessel.

He jumped overboard with a life ring and pulled survivors from the floating wreckage.

The blimp had been out on a search patrol for the 40-foot sloop Vat 69, reported missing with a crew of seven or eight on her way home from the Newport, R.I. to Bermuda sailboat race last month.

Ironically the yacht was found safe by a Navy submarine at almost the same moment the huge blimp radioed the international distress call "May Day, May Day."

Those were the only words heard from the blimp, one of four of the ZPG3W class, the largest airship in the world.

Grappling efforts begin today to retrieve the wreckage which sank in an undetermined depth.

Cuban Leader Upset by U.S. Action on Sugar

Schedules Sunday Demonstration As Show of Unity

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. cut in imports of Cuban sugar sent Fidel Castro into a boiling rage today, but the wild-eyed Prime Minister did not disclose immediately what American property he intends to seize next in retaliation.

Cuba May Feel New U.S. Moves

Further Cutbacks in Sugar Quotas Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is considering new moves against the Castro government of Cuba to follow up the costly cutbacks ordered by President Eisenhower in Cuban sugar sales to this country.

Eisenhower decreed late Wednesday a reduction of 700,000 tons in the Cuban sugar quota, thereby almost eliminating it for the rest of his year. The estimated loss to Cuba in U.S. sugar subsidy is around 35 million dollars.

Actually, sugar authorities said, the cut amounts to 856,000 tons, because the law under which Eisenhower acted also takes from Cuba a 156,000-ton extra quota Cuba would have gotten under the old law.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson was ordered to buy sugar from other sources to make up the deficit. Officials said there are not ample supplies of raw sugar available for purchase, especially in Brazil and the Philippines, and neither a shortage nor an increase in price here is expected.

Eisenhower said the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro "has embarked upon a deliberate policy of hostility toward the United States." He declared his made Cuba an unreliable supplier of a major food produce especially with Cuba committing "increasing amounts of its sugar crop to trade with the Communist bloc."

While the reason thus stated for his action was primarily economic—that is, the uncertainty of the U.S. sugar supply from Cuba—the effect of reducing the sales quota is the same as if the action had been taken for political reasons.

The significance of the stated cause is that to take such action for a political purpose would constitute an economic sanction which by treaty the United States can take only upon agreement with other American countries.

Such sanctions, however, are now considered entirely possible assuming that, as authorities here expect, Castro continues to follow a course of increasing hostility toward neighboring states.

New moves under consideration at the State Department include:

1. A request to other Latin American countries for concerted action against Castro, perhaps through a meeting of foreign ministers of the Organization of American States.
2. A further slash in future Cuban sugar sales to the United States under authority already given the President of Congress for the first three months of 1961.
3. New congressional action on the sugar quota allocation which could have the effect of permanently reducing Cuba's position in the U.S. sugar market.

HUBCAPS, RADIO STOLEN

All four hubcaps and the radio were stolen from a car owned by Art Price, RD 1, Lisbon, late Tuesday or early Wednesday, he reported to Salem police. He said his car was parked in the Bliss Company lot on S. Broadway when the theft occurred.

Early to Quit Lisbon Schools

To Be Superintendent At Olmstead Falls

LISBON — Superintendent Loren D. Early of the Lisbon Exempted Village Schools has resigned to become superintendent at Olmstead Falls, near Cleveland, beginning with the fall school term.

Supt. Early has been the head of the local system since Oct. 16, 1954, having come to Lisbon from Salem, where he was principal of the Junior High School. He replaced V. J. Ullman. He is a native of East Palestine.

Olmstead Falls has an enrollment of 1,900 students, with over 120 being added each year. Lisbon has 1,400 but expects approximately 1,500 this school term.

Supt. Early and his wife, Evelyn and son, Dick, moved into their new home about a week ago. They also have another son, Robert Early, who is furthering his education with the General Motors Institute. Flint, Mich. Dick hopes to remain in Lisbon and graduate with his class next year.

Loren D. Early

The Lisbon school board will meet Tuesday evening for their regular meeting and it is expected that Supt. Early will remain until a successor is named, providing it doesn't go beyond the beginning of the fall term.

Supt. Early said, "I thought I was settled in Lisbon, but the difference in salary and the fact that the Olmstead Falls board came to me to take the position, made me feel that it was too good to turn down."

Mr. Early had been principal of the Salem Junior High School six years and a teacher in Salem for nearly 17 years before being named Lisbon superintendent.

He is a graduate of Geneva College and obtained his master's degree from Columbia University. He is a past district governor of Kiwanis.

E. Palestine Barber's Death Still Unsolved

EAST PALESTINE — No new development has been reported in the mysterious death of Mat C. Merrell who was fatally shot a week ago at his home.

Police Chief Carl R. Lotze left today for the Ohio Crime Laboratory at London where tests are being made on the weapon and an empty shell found near the victim's body.

Mr. Merrell, a barber, was killed by a bullet wound in the head.

Brown Holding Out Against Dem Pressure for 81 Votes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts apparently failed today in an attempt to corral California's vital 81 votes on the first Democratic presidential ballot.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown reportedly still was holding out against what was described as terrific pressure exerted by the Kennedy forces. They have been trying to persuade Brown to give up his favorite son status in favor of Kennedy on the first countdown of the convention opening Monday.

One top Kennedy strategist described the governor as leaning toward announcing for Kennedy on one day and reluctant on the next. This strategist concluded, with a measure of resignation, that Brown probably will withhold the state's votes from the Massachusetts senator on the initial ballot.

This could be a major blow to Kennedy's hopes of steamrolling what promises to be a rip-roaring meeting of Democrats who sharpen their knives for the Republicans by practicing on their fellow party members.

William A. Munell, Los Angeles attorney who is chairman of the California State Central Committee, told a reporter he has been in close touch with the governor and: "I think he'll take his first ballot vote."

Asked about published reports that Brown already had passed the word that he would release the California delegation prior to the start of the convention, Munell said: "No, I haven't heard that."

As an indication that Brown finds something less than harmony within his spreadeagle delegation, Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson announced his support of Adlai E. Stevenson.

It was regarded as significant, however, that Anderson said he

Rome Riotings Hurt Police, Leftists

ROME (AP) — Italy's ancient capital looked like an armed camp today as police took up strategic positions against the threat of more Communist-Fascist trouble after a wild night of rioting.

Rome's Chamber of Labor protesting police action against the Communist-led rioters, called an 11-hour general strike in the capital and surrounding province beginning at 1 p.m.

Police headquarters banned all public meetings in Rome Province in an attempt to forestall rallies planned today by the Fascists in Rome and the Communists in the port city of Civitavecchia north of the capital.

About 200 persons were injured in violent street fighting Wednesday night that turned a section of the city into a battlefield and set off fist fights in Parliament.

More fireworks appeared likely in Parliament today as leftist legislators pressed for a government statement on the clashes.

In the bloodiest rioting Rome has had in years, 135 police and 150 demonstrators were injured. More than 50, including two left-

Sheppard Serves As Aid In Honor Dorm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Prison life became just a bit more tolerable today for Dr. Samuel Sheppard.

The Cleveland Osteopath, convicted of second-degree murder in the 1954 bludgeoning slaying of his wife Marilyn, took up new quarters in Ohio Penitentiary's honor dormitory.

Sheppard has been granted honor status, and while living in the dormitory along with about 150 other honor inmates, he will serve as a first-aid man.

The honor committee and the warden approved Sheppard's application for honor status. There's a good possibility that within the next few months he will be transferred to the Marion Correctional Institution. But his request for this transfer must first be approved by the prison transfer committee and the Division of Correction.

Maurice C. Kobentz, division head, said that because of Sheppard's good prison record he sees no barriers to such a transfer.

UAW Accused of Misusing Union Funds

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union is accused by two rank and file members of mishandling millions of dollars in union funds.

The misuse—for political purposes—is alleged in U.S. District Court suit filed Wednesday by two Toledo, Ohio UAW men long at odds with the UAW leadership.

President Walter Reuther, Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazy and the international union are defendants in the suit.

Commenting, Mazy termed the action a "nuisance crank lawsuit" and defended the union's practices. He said the suit was intended to "harass" the union because of the UAW's effectiveness in political effort.

The plaintiffs, Randolph Gray and Harold Billheimer, both former holders of union office on the local level, charged that Reuther has "entrenched himself as a dictator" in the UAW and that any challenger of his authority can be "summarily punished."

Gray and Billheimer said that by "conservative estimate" between 10 million and 12 million dollars had been taken fraudulently from the UAW treasury.

Their suit demands an accounting of UAW funds and reimbursement if the court finds that money was drawn improperly from the treasury.

"This obviously is nuisance, crank law suit intended to harass the UAW because of its effective work in the field of political education and political action," Mazy said in a statement. "The UAW has always made expenditures in the field of political action strictly within federal and state laws."

Gray is a former executive board member and financial secretary of Toledo Local 12. He was fired as financial secretary in 1950 in a policy fight and lost a court battle in Detroit for reinstatement.

The Toledo fight was between Gray and former UAW vice president Richard Gosser of that city. Also in 1950 Billheimer headed a committee protesting to Reuther over Gosser policies.

12 Satellite Firings Planned for 1962

WASHINGTON (AP) — The entire series of 12 Thor-Delta satellite launching vehicles will be fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Five of the shots had been scheduled for the West Coast.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today the decision to cancel the scheduled shots from the Pacific Missile Range at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., was aimed at saving time and money.

Satellites can be launched southward from the Vandenberg base into polar orbits. From the Atlantic range satellites are sent eastward into semi-equatorial orbits.

A NASA spokesman said that since there are only 12 Thor-Delta vehicles in the whole program, the agency decided to avoid the time loss and expense of transferring ground handling equipment and personnel from Florida to California for the last five firings. NASA hopes to fire all 12 Thor-Deltas by March, 1962.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

They've had to change the Cape Canaveral timetable for departure of the big Saturn space ship. Blast-off zero hour gets later and later.

The other day someone away up high in the Air Force kicked away seven precious days in the race with the Soviets for outer space. Also tens of thousands of dollars.

No one seems to know who did it, but after following the red tape to the end of the line I now know how it was done.

So here is an inside view of that grim "time lag" which haunts our efforts to keep ahead of the big Russian rockets.

This story begins on June 5. The International Association of Machinists had sent word to the commanders of Patrick Air Force Base cradle of our rocketry, that it would strike Convair's Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile "complex" there that midnight.

Machinist business agent, Willie Usery, could throw his pickets in front of the two gates, north and south of the space depot on the Cape.

These are the main—and only—entrances. One picket at each entrance would keep upward of 7,000 men from their crucial tasks, including the Saturn outer space vehicle project where pads and weirdly intricate "complexes" are being built.

USERY IS ONE of "The Big Three Committee." On the committee are the leader of the Construction Trades Unions and the head of Mike Quill's Transportation Workers Union local which covers the caretaking Pan-American workers.

Since last January they've been meeting with a labor relations specialist brought in by commanding Gen. Yates.

They got together regularly to head off quickie strikes whenever they could be averted, or end them swiftly if the men had already quit.

This was important. The "slip-page" of time lost through stoppages was costly in money, broken schedules and global prestige.

One of the "Big Three" policies adopted early in their sessions was to avoid picketing the main north and south gates. If a legitimate strike was called, the pickets were to parade only in front of the special job of the contractor involved in the walkout. This meant picketing inside the gates of the great base.

There would be a picket with a placard in front of a rocket or a building—but all other work would continue.

This policy of inside picketing was approved by all commands right up to the Pentagon. So on June 5 the Machinists were ready to walk only in front of the Convair Atlas in their strike for more money and extra pay and special rights for men working on the Cape away from home (mostly California).

The base civilian labor relations expert Ed Keffmeyer, telephoned Usery. Remember, he said, you fellows agreed to picket inside and let the 10,000 others not involved go to work. Some 750 Machinists struck at midnight on June 5th.

THE NEXT DAY the strike leader got a four-page telegram from Gen. Leighton Davis, commander of the Air Force Missile Test Center.

The officer confirmed the "Big Three" policy of inside picketing. There were long conferences into the night.

On June 7 Usery returned at 7 a.m. to get the judge advocate's advice on how to picket the rocket and to pick up free security passes for the pickets. There were hours of further discussion.

Everything was set. Just the formality of seeing Gen. Davis at 2 o'clock.

At that hour the strike leader was in the general's office—and was told that, "I'm sorry to tell you that you cannot picket inside the gate. We have been reversed in Washington."

That was all he would—and could—say. So the Air Force forced the pickets outside the north and south gates.

Immediately all the skilled craftsmen working on the most vital space age projects of other contractors refused to cross the line. Instead of 750 strikers, there were now well over 7,000. They were out until June 15.

One word from the office of Air Force Chief Gen. Lemay would have sent the pickets and the thousands of men back inside. Instead, the nation lost permanently three-quarters of a day for every day of the strike—or a full week out of the life of our defense program and outer space explorations.

Why was that word not sent?

Rockefeller Draft for Nomination Begins

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A nationwide movement to draft New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the Republican presidential nomination got under way today with half-page ads in metropolitan newspapers.

The movement was announced Wednesday by William M. Brinton, San Francisco attorney and national chairman Draft Rockefeller headquarters are in San Francisco, with committees operating in 21 states. Brinton said.

Brinton said he is absolutely confident the movement will give Rockefeller a majority of delegate support at the Republican National Convention.

"We have enough money to spend on the things we consider useful," said Brinton. "Not a cent of it is Rockefeller money."

Brinton said Rockefeller associates had never given support to nor opposed the draft movement.

Was This Death Necessary?

Ohioans have every reason to be scared green about the risk they take when they drive cars on the highways of their home state.

Their chances of coming home alive aren't much better than they would be in California, which has been known far and wide as the riskiest place in the Union to operate an automobile. At that, Ohioans did more damage than Californians last Memorial Day and ran California a close second for the equally long Independence Day holiday—78 hours.

What's wrong with Ohio?
California had more than seven million vehicles registered in 1958 Ohio had fewer than four million registered.

California drivers have a well-earned reputation for being accident-prone. They have been a challenge to safety authorities for many years.

Ohio drivers have no reputation to match that of the Californians, as far as characteristic behavior behind the wheel is concerned. Yet, here are two states widely dissimilar in car registrations and population (California is second in population Ohio fifth) driving neck and neck and funeral procession to funeral procession.

WHAT REALLY is wrong with Ohio, with its drivers and with its highways?

This state does not want the reputation it is winning. Yet, it may continue to build a reputation, unless it can reverse a highway accident trend that is bringing it bad publicity from coast to coast.

Chiefly, its highways are to blame. It has the safest highway that can be built—the Ohio Turnpike. Accidents there are minimized, thanks to engineering. It is building hundreds of miles of comparably safe highways under the federal interstate program and its own program of modernization. Its local highway systems are being improved little by little—an intersection marked more plainly, a bad curve straightened, a blind spot eliminated, a warning sign erected. But progress is slow.

Next to blame are Ohio drivers.
This is a tricky thing to discuss and would be an even trickier thing to decide. But Ohio drivers are not the best, and they need to be. Their highway system is among the worst. Because it was among the first to become extensive and complex, it is among the worst in antiquity of design and repair. Until it has been brought up to higher specifications, Ohio drivers will need to be extra-careful.

The third obvious cause of Ohio accidents is the state's geographical position. All east-west travel on northern routes crosses Ohio. It must deal not only with its own motorists but millions passing from east to west and from west to east across the state.

UNLESS it can be assumed that human beings are fools and incapable of taking care of themselves, it cannot be assumed that some highway deaths, or all highway deaths, or any highway deaths are inevitable.

There is no such thing as an inevitable death on the highway, other than extremely rare deaths from causes having nothing to do with the operation of an automobile, such as falling trees, flash floods, or perhaps stray bullets. There are no necessary deaths in traffic. Every death is avoidable.

Ohio drivers will have to work extra hard to avoid accidents, unless they want a national reputation as the nation's worst. They're within easy striking distance.

Detroit Playing Both Ends

Our automobile capital became the world's best at making big ones out of little ones. But this was a game that defied rules and generalizations.

Some of us who remember the "bathtub" Reo of well-deserved fame and still think of a Pierce-Arrow town car as the swankiest thing that ever rolled on tires realize that Detroit made its real fame by following Henry Ford's example of shrinking outsized models into manageable proportions.

The U.S. compact was not made in any recent effort to appeal to economy-minded buyers now but in a highly successful effort to appeal to economy-minded buyers a generation ago. It was the Model T Ford—the famous one that looked like a spider on wheels and could be purchased in any color as long as the color was black.

But after that, Detroit began to make big ones out of its little ones. Cars kept growing larger. And now Detroit is engrossed in making little ones out of big ones again, though some of the little ones already are starting to expand in their own right. But at the same time it's being reported that still smaller cars are in the designing and planning stage and that these will stay small, to compete with the small imports from abroad.

It suggests something about the future of the auto industry that would be a new dimension—a size to suit every buyer. The truth is, no one ever has known just how large or how small a car should be. Owners were obliged to fit the cars.

In the future, cars will be made to fit the owners—all the way from the single size to the big family size, just like breakfast food.

Detroit will make the largest, the smallest and all the graduations in between, something it never tried before.

Espionage Among Friends

Casual observation would probably lead most of us to conclude that makers of spying equipment have a rather limited market, despite the evidence of widespread espionage activities among nations.

Not so, says "The Insider's Newsletter." It is a booming business. What makes it so? Business.

The publication reports that professional spies work chiefly at checking out bank-loan applicants, helping partners keep an eye on each other and helping companies keep abreast of what their competitors are doing.

Some of the new equipment makes the wooden eagle with hidden microphone which was presented by Russia to the United States Embassy in Moscow look like a primitive crudity.

There is, for instance, a paint chemical that conducts electricity and can serve as the "wire" from a hidden microphone to a receiver. It is applied with a brush and then painted over with regular paint.

A dummy wall outlet contains a powerful battery - operated transmitter. Picture frames, typewriters and clocks can be equipped with built-in transmitters. A palm-sized microphone with pocket receiver can pick up a whisper 50 feet away.

As could be expected, the article says, these techniques have led to counter-espionage activities among businessmen. One purpose is to watch for employees in sensitive positions who have a tendency to talk too much in public places. They are likely to find themselves transferred to "nonsensitive" jobs.

Of course, these are simply new approaches to an old game. Curiosity may have killed the cat, but humans have been thriving on it — above or below board — for centuries.

Once Over

Famous scientist Dr. R. N. Bracewell says it is possible other planets are sending satellites in an attempt to communicate with earth. Curious signals have been heard for decades, he says and people of "vastly superior civilization may be trying to study us and sending out messages which may one day be understood."

Top inquiries from such planets could well be, "What's all the row down there?" "Is this disturbance necessary?" and "Don't you ever simmer down?"

Mortimer Topblower fears possibly some planet has been getting a message from earth, and that most of them are airwave commercials.

"If so, the inhabitants up there have been hearing so much about detergents, breath purifiers and BO preparations that they want no part of us," he declares.

"The radio jingle alone could give a planet a terrible idea of what life is like on earth." He added the thought that, from the airwave plugs, an advanced civilization on another planet might well conclude much of people's time on earth was taken up with choosing pizza pies, digestion remedies, beers and cigarettes.

"Any planet getting all the underarm perspiration commercials must have been hard hit," he says.

Dr. Bracewell thinks it possible there are civilizations up among the stars that make ours look bush-league. The way man is behaving on earth today makes this seem entirely likely if another planet is really trying.

The professor says he hasn't heard any messages from other planets lately. Our guess is that they heard a few "Westerns," political speeches, the voice of Castro and called it quits for this season.

SINCE THAT NEW YORK scandal over the salt used in now removals last winter a lot of politicians are on a salt-free diet.

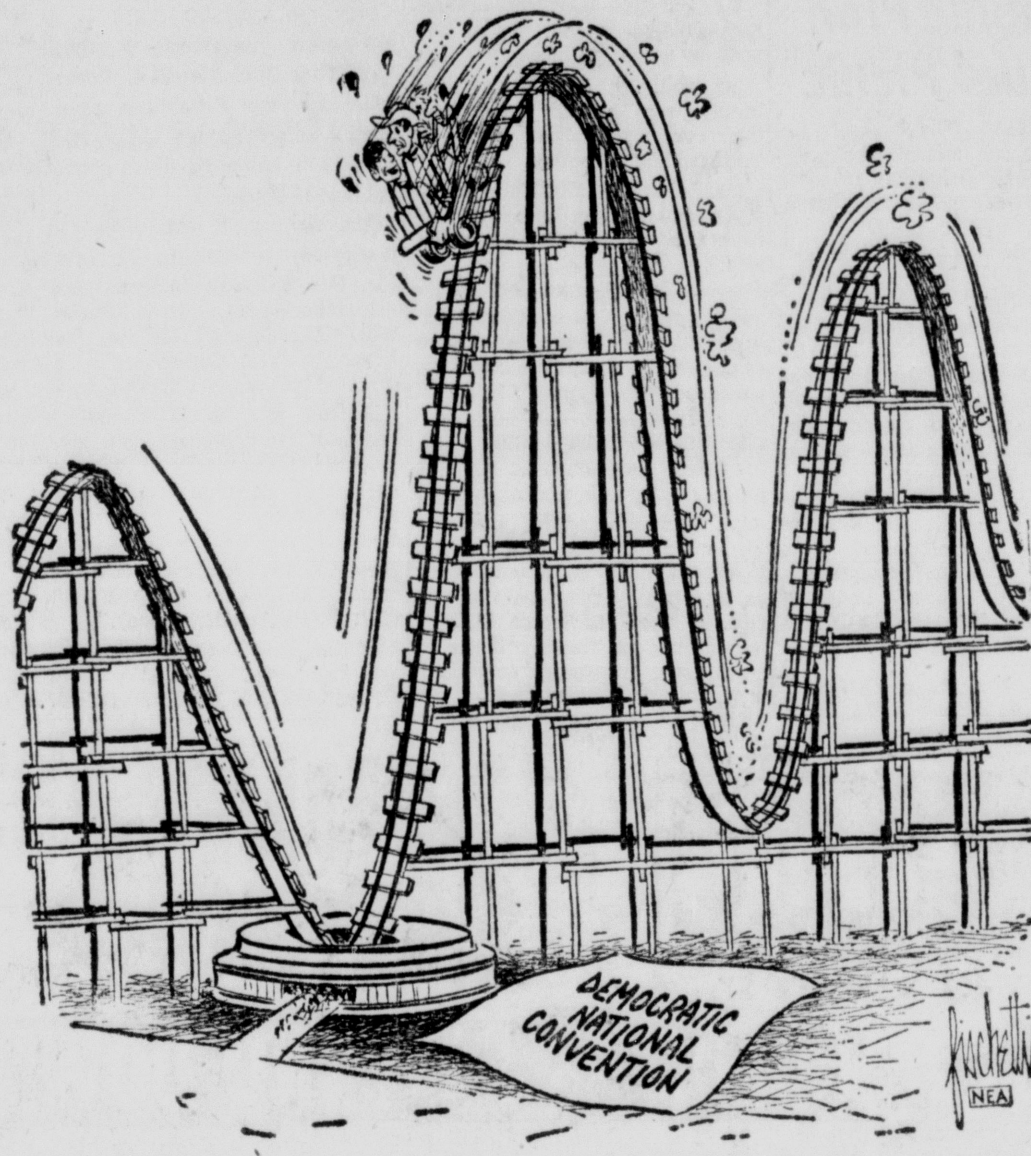

The log cabin to the White House routine is out. The public thinks log cabins are for Indians, Western scenario writers and salmon fishing camps. Horatio Alger "up from bottom" type has lost appeal, too. Natural reaction by the public is, "What? No helicopter."

The popularity of Dick Nixon and Sen. Jack Kennedy proves the politicians had better consider the appeal of youth, hair, vigor, vim and perfect trim in all voting booth. It's a young man's day, with every indication the voters go for a candidate who can view the world problems without eyeglasses, hearing aids, vitamin doses, a selected diet, ten hours sleep, dental worries and constant assistance in finding his false teeth.

Wealth, once a great handicap in getting tagged as the "pepful cherce," is no longer a detriment these days when everybody is living high on the hog and enjoying everything the rich have, without the added taxes and the servant problem.

LOOKING BACKWARD
How peaceful were the olden day in times of peace and ease

"Don't Worry---There's Always One Survivor"

Fulbright Logic

By RAYMOND MOLEY

When an academician turns politician a curious twisting of his mentality often takes place. As a politician he is perfectly willing to take partisan advantage of whatever seems to him salable to the voting public. But his academic mind prevents him from a sound judgment as to what the public may or may not understand.

He may offer a technical point which either has no validity or cannot be explained.

An excellent example is the position taken by Sen. Fulbright in objecting to the management of the U2 incident by the administration.

He had taken that position before the committee approved the report and was able to get the committee to approve of it.

As a politician he apparently decided that any report which condemned our spying operations would not be popular.

The American people have made it clear that since we are in a war for survival and since the Soviet has infested our country with spies we had better do some spying ourselves.

MOREOVER since we must be on the alert against sudden attack we must determine with some degree of exactness the spots in Russia from which such an attack might be launched.

Also in quibbling about what officer in the State Department or the CIA said and then reversed himself was not of substance considering the gravity of the issue itself.

And so the professor-turned-senator conjured up the curious theory that while we must spy, the President should take no responsibility for the business.

Apparently he would have had the President say that he had never heard of the U2 flights, was not aware that any effort was being made to spot Soviet installations and that the revelation by the Soviet of the incident was news to him.

Or perhaps he would have had the President say nothing.

But in his subsequent speech, he added further mud to the muddy water his report had created.

He said that he was not against the President telling the truth but that the President should not have become involved in the incident.

That is indeed a curious course of argument even for a legal metaphysician. How could the President tell the truth and at the same time not be involved in the incident.

What the senator got his partisan colleagues to say in substance was that the President should have lied to the people. Or by not saying anything, give the impression that he was afraid to tell the truth.

This is a dangerous stick which the senator has shaped to use in a campaign.

BUT LET US turn the case around. Suppose the President had said that he had never heard of the U2 business? Then the opposition, probably including the senator, would have said, "Here are some government airplanes flying over another country taking pictures and the President is either playing golf or he is kept in ignorance by his high officials about a matter of transcendent importance, involving our relations with other nations."

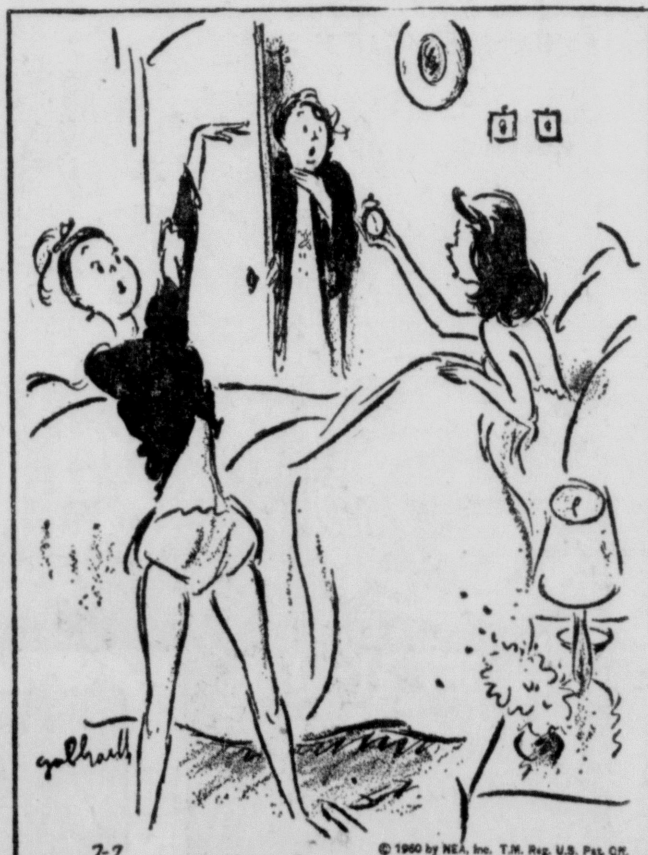

If the former professor and president of the University of Arkansas is to carry the case against the administration in the coming campaign, the Democrats will leave the voters cold.

And since Sen. Kennedy joined in approving the nonsensical Fulbright report, he, too, will be a poor counsel for the prosecution.

Kennedy's Rebuttal

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Truman Gets Tripped by His Own Tactics

There's an old tactic in debate—turn a weakness, if possible, into a strength. Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts took advantage of the publicity opportunity opened up for him by former President Truman and discussed extensively before a nationwide television audience the question of his youth alleged lack of experience for the presidency.

Whether he did a job sufficient to convince the Democratic National Convention is one thing. Whether the same argument will convince the country, if he is nominated by the Democrats, is quite another. Youth itself is no handicap to the presidency, as Sen. Kennedy accurately pointed out how other Americans—younge in years than he is today—rose to fame.

Former President Truman, it will be recalled, asked the Massachusetts senator to step aside on two counts. One was youth, but the other was the need for a man "with the greatest possible maturity and experience."

Mr. Truman obviously had in mind Sen. Lyndon Johnson, majority leader of the Senate, as such a man.

Sen. Kennedy, is refuting the idea that he is too young, was quick to refer on the other point—experience—to his record of 14 years in Congress.

HE WAS UNABLE, however, to offer the kind of experience in the shaping of legislative policy which Sen. Johnson of Texas possesses.

Also, if Mr. Kennedy is the Democratic nominee, he will have to find a rebuttal to the Republican argument that Vice President Nixon has for the past seven years actually sat in at the White House at Cabinet meetings, sessions of the National Security Council and consultations with foreign dignitaries visiting President Eisenhower.

Some of the delegates to the Democratic convention will certainly be thinking of these points and particularly whether Sen. Johnson would make a better impression on the voters on the score of "maturity and experience" than would Sen. Kennedy.

For, whether former President Truman realized it or not, he put his finger on a vital question that will influence the judgment of many voters—whether Sen. Kennedy is better equipped by "maturity and experience" to take possession of the executive branch of the government than is Vice President Nixon.

This question of experience is one that has never really been thoroughly debated. America has made many mistakes in the past in selecting for the presidency both Republicans and Democrats without experience.

THESE MEN have had to get their presidential education at the expense of the American people. They learned the ropes, but at what expense!

William Howard Taft, Republican, was elected President in 1908 after having served in the Cabinet as secretary of war. His lack of knowledge of legislative processes helped to retard his progress and he was not re-elected.

Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, had served a brief term as governor of New Jersey before he was elected in 1912. His first term was largely spent in getting familiar with congressional problems.

Warren Harding, Republican, elected in 1920, had served one term as a senator but not in a position of leadership. He knew little about the executive end of government.

Calvin Coolidge, a former governor of Massachusetts, bowed often to the will of Congress, about whose procedures and methods he knew little from actual experience.

Herbert Hoover, elected in 1928, had served eight years in the Cabinet and knew the executive side very well, but he lacked knowledge of the ways of Congress, which fought him continuously.

Franklin D. Roosevelt had served as an assistant secretary of the Navy and as governor of New York before his election to the presidency in 1932, but he really was "going to school" the first two years of his administration.

Hence, his later-day policies of international co-operation reversed his earlier concepts of isolationism.

He, too, learned by experience that world affairs cannot be dealt with from the provincial position of a governor's chair.

HARRY S. TRUMAN, who became President in 1945, had had experience as a senator, but as an executive he was a neophyte. He made his decisions impetuously without that same maturity of judgment which he is asking Sen. Kennedy to provide today.

Many of the Truman decisions were in the public interest, but some were not.

His tendency to disregard the viewpoint of his advisers who had had experience mars his record in the White House.

Sen. Kennedy, in passing, referred to this trait of self-centeredness when he said: "Mr. Truman regards an open convention as one which studies all the candidates—reviews their records—and then takes his advice."

Judging by the impression of vitality and earnestness displayed by Sen. Kennedy on the television screen, it will take a more effective exposition of what is meant by "maturity and experience" than the critics of Sen. Kennedy have given thus far if someone else is to be nominated by the Democratic convention.

FICTION

"The View from the Fortieth Floor" by Theodore H. White. Mr. White, who up to now has written almost exclusively about Asia, comes home and gives us his fresh account of the publishing world. A big circulation magazine, its new bright young men, its loyal old hands and in the background, the city itself. Also, in the background, the wives and families - how all of this struggle affects them.

"Nightshade" by Helen Topping Miller. A family is dominated by a selfish man, so completely dominated that they cannot even attempt to solve their own personal problems. What happens when the mother suddenly dies and they have to decide many things makes a good story.

"The Yellow Brick Road" by Elizabeth Cadell. Every character in Elizabeth Cadell's very English novels is usually slightly mad, but it is always a pleasant sort of madness. This one is true to form, with a bit of suspense thrown in. Good summer fare.

"Sail a Crooked Ship" by Nathaniel Benchley. A blithe young man and his fiancée climb about a "mothball" ship but before they can climb off again the ship is at sea and they are prisoners of a cutthroat gang. Lots of fun and excitement.

"Years in Ambush" by Roger Grenier. Young French people during World War II and after. Pier a photographer, works in the Resistance. But the girl he loves is more interested in gaining power and wealth for herself than in him. Good characterizations.

"All the Queen's Men" by Evelyn Anthony. Elizabeth the queen, with all her gusto, her schemes, and her courage. Here, too, are the men who figured prominently in her life and her career, and we learn of how she played them one against another, even the one she loved the most.

"Jury of One" by Mignon G. Eberhart. A struggle over a New England business which ends in suspected murder makes an exciting story when told by a writer as good as Eberhart. A Random House mystery.

"The Dead Beat" by Robert Bloch. A young couple find a good-looking, clean-cut young man on the back seat of their car unconscious and with blood on his face. Naturally they ask him to stay with them until he is better. But he turns out to be quite otherwise than they thought. An Inner Sanctum Mystery.

"The Humbler Creation" by Pamela Hansford Johnson. A middle-aged vicar, in a slightly seedy parish in London with a family which is not much help to him, finds himself turning to a sympathetic woman in his trouble and thereby making a scandal among his parishioners.

NON-FICTION

"That Certain Something" by Arlene Francis. A little book of good advice from this television and theater personality.

"Success Through a Positive Mental Attitude" by Napoleon Hill and W. Clement Stone. Inspiration, concrete suggestions, many case histories to inspire the people who want to get ahead in the world financially.

"Writing to Sell" by Scott Meredith. A new revised and enlarged edition of a standard guide for the would-be author. A lot on how to write, a little on how to sell.

"Live and Let Live" by Stuart Chase. A very short, very clean book on the position of America and each American citizen in the world today, and what we ought to be doing if we want our own country to continue to survive and prosper.

"Judy Combination Techniques" by T. Kawamura. By photography of each position and brief text, the author describes advanced techniques of Judo. This particular book cannot be used by a beginner.

"The Spiritual Legacy of John Foster Dulles" edited by Henry P. Van Dusen. Twenty two selections from Mr. Dulles speeches and articles selected to show the principles which motivated his entire life.

"Prayers for Young People" Herman N. Beimforh. Arranged by subject, this little book will be a help to young people in learning effective religious group leadership.

"Morning Worship and Other Poems" by Mark VanDoren. More than 100 poems by one of our outstanding living poets. Subjects are varied, some of the poems have appeared elsewhere, others are first in print.

"When Your Husband Retires" by Mollie Hart. Sensible advice to wives and husbands about the time when he no longer goes to the office. Interestingly written, with humor and tolerance as well as good sense.

"The Divorce Handbook" by Florence Haussamen and Mary Anne Guitar. Where to go for help kind of advice to people who have decided that divorce is the only solution for their problems.

Broiler Polenta

Ingredients: 3 cups water, ¾ cup enriched white corn meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup grated cheddar-type cheese, ¼ cup butter (soft), ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese.

Method: In a medium-sized saucepan heat to boiling 2 cups of water.

Mix corn meal and salt with remaining 1 cup cold water; stirring constantly, pour into the boiling water. Cook until thickened, stirring often. Cover; continue cooking over low heat about 10 minutes.

Add cheddar cheese; stir until melted. Pour into baking dish (about 10 by 6 by 1 inch) that has been rinsed in cold water; chill. Spread chilled corn meal with soft butter; cut in squares; sprinkle with Parmesan.

Place slightly part, on broiling pan; broil slowly until heated through and top is a light golden brown. Makes 6 servings.

Sanford Hansells Residing In New York After Wedding

Residing in New York for the summer are Sanford I. Hansell of Salem and his bride, the former Elizabeth Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rose of Detroit, Mich., and the late Mr. Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hansell of E. State St. are the bridegroom's parents.

The couple exchanged marriage vows in a ceremony in the garden of the bride's home June 26 at 2:30 p.m. Dr. Gordon Adler officiated.

White orchids and stephanotis were combined in the bouquet carried by the bride, whose gown of ivory silk and peau de soie was embroidered with tiny seed pearls and styled with short sleeves, empire waistline and cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown of pearls.

Miss Betsy Wells of Chicago, a college classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Hilda Klingaman of Albany, N.Y., Miss Maria Fantasia of Belmont, Mass., and Mrs. Elliott Hansell of Salem and Mrs. Herbert J. Hansell of Cleveland, sisters-in-law of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore gowns of wisteria silk organza designed with scissor pleated bell skirts. They wore picture hats to match their gowns and carried bouquets of shaded tones of wisteria.

David Crossman of Boston, Mass., was best man. The bride's brothers, John and Jeremy Rose, the bridegroom's brothers, Elliott and Herbert Hansell, and Joseph Albright of Chicago, Richard Siegel of Boston and Paul Watson of Washington, D.C., ushered.

Mrs. Rose was attired in royal blue chiffon with matching accessories, while Mrs. Hansell chose a pure silk organza gown embellished with seed pearls.

A reception followed in the garden, where a buffet luncheon was served at the many individual tables decorated with flowers from the garden.

The 250 guests were from Salem, Cleveland, Norwalk, and Toledo, Ohio; Chicago, Highland Park, Danville, Ill., Pittsburgh, Pa., Boston, Mass., and New York City.

The bride, who attended Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., will continue her studies in art and interior decoration.

Mr. Hansell, a graduate of Salem High School, was graduated cum laude in 1958 from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., where he was a member of Theta Delta Chi and editor of the Williams Record. He is currently entering his third year at Harvard Law School.

This summer Mr. Hansell is employed by the lawn firm, Millbank, Tweed, Hope and Hadley in New York. The newlyweds will return to Cambridge, Mass., in the fall.

Among the many social events preceding the wedding were a bridesmaids luncheon at the Franklin Hill Country Club, a bridal dinner at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feinberg, and a brunch on the morning of the wedding given by the bridegroom's parents.

Couple Mark Their 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Ward of 207 S. Ellsworth Ave., who were married July 5, 1910, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at the Lape Hotel followed by an open reception at their home.

The couple greeted 150 guests from Chicago, Ill., Buffalo, N. Y., Mansfield, Canton, Alliance, East Palestine, Youngstown, Kent, Columbiana, Lisbon, Winona, Hanover and Damascus. Miss Alice Christy was in charge of the guest book.

The Ward's children, Donald of N. Union Ave., Robert of Winona and Helen Wolfgang of Kent, and their families all were present with the exception of one grandson, Richard Ward, stationed at Camp Irwin, Calif., who telephoned his greetings. There are 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

White linen covered the refreshment table, which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake baked and decorated by the couple's daughter, Helen, and her husband Robert Wolfgang of Kent.

Three large bells were atop the cake which was decorated with white rosebuds touched with gold. Gold colored candles lighted the table that was edged with arrangements of yellow mums and green leaves.

Mrs. Mary Yates cut and served the cake, Mrs. Wilbur Spalding of Alliance presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Fred Smith of Salem presided at the coffee service. They were assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Clewell of Guilford and Miss Josephine Bozzi of Salem.

Volunteers Save Witmer Barn In Fire

COLUMBIANA — A move which was meant to put farmer J. Elmer Witmer ahead of his chores for the coming year was undone by fire Tuesday afternoon.

The fire which started in the loft of Witmer's large barn, located on Rt. 14 between Columbiana and Washingtonville, destroyed almost half of the 40 tons of hay stored there. Witmer told bystanders that when he stored the hay in early June he felt he was a step ahead of area farmers just filling their silos.

Blamed for the smoldering fire which lasted almost four hours was spontaneous combustion caused by the tremendous natural heat in the loft. The fire was first spotted by farm laborer at 4 p.m.

Although much of the hay was lost, Witmer was spared his barn, saved by the combined efforts of almost 100 North Lima and Columbiana volunteer firemen and 40 neighbors. At one point some 20 men were in the hay loft, and in almost "whirlwind" fashion, tossed the hay from the barn into the open air where other neighbors baled it almost as fast as it was thrown out.

Also helping in fighting the blaze were the Greenford and Lisbon fire departments which offered water when the existing supply was dwindling.

Witmer also owns a turkey farm on Germantown Rd.

HEARING SET FOR RATES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A hearing on an application for a 28 percent over-all increase in southwestern Ohio Blue Cross rates will be conducted July 20 (9:30 a. m.) in the Hamilton County courthouse at Cincinnati the state Insurance Department announced. Hospital Care Corp. of Cincinnati serves Adams, Brown, Butler, Clermont, Clark, Clinton, Drake, Greene, Hamilton, Miami, Montgomery, Preble, Scioto, Warren and Highland counties, except Greenfield.

WANTED BY FBI — Richard Peter Wagner has been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Criminals." Wagner, with a long record of burglaries in his 42 years, escaped from a prison in Sandstone, Minn. He is about 6 feet 1 1/2 inches tall, weighs between 210 and 230 pounds, has dark brown, graying hair and brown eyes. Caution: Wagner should be considered armed and extremely dangerous. Anyone with information concerning this fugitive should immediately contact the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Wins Ohio Strutting Laurels

Mickey Hoffman

Mickey Hoffman of Damascus earned the title of Juvenile Drum Major of America 1960 Strutting Champion of Ohio at a closed contest Saturday in Galion.

Mickey, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hoffman, also won second place honor in juvenile twirling.

These achievements will entitle her to compete in August at DMA national and international contests in Fayetteville, N.C.

In March, 1959, Mickey competed and won first place in the United States Twirling Association Closed Ohio Contest, which made her 1959 Juvenile Strutting Champion of Ohio.

Pictured is Mickey with a few of her awards which she has received in 37 months' competition, covering much of the eastern section of the United States. She has earned 102 trophies, 121 medals, and four plaques, making a total of 227 awards.

Mrs. Harold Sidwell, treasurer of the Winona Playground Committee reports proceeds amounting to $441.70 from the annual strawberry festival held June 25.

September 3 has been announced as the wedding date of Mr. Larry Hall, a former resident of Winona, and Miss Nancy Ashe of Chillicothe.

The Cope family reunion was held Sunday in the Quaker Meeting House, a picnic dinner being served at noon. After the dinner a reception was held honoring Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hall on their 25th wedding anniversary. The Halls are former residents of Winona and now make their home in Brookfield, Wis. Mr. Hall has returned to Brookfield while Mrs. Hall and daughter Janice are remaining in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reber Heacock for a two-week visit.

Among out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Macey of Westtown, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brantingham and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Brantingham of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crawford of Painesville, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgan of Alliance and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton of Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dusenberry have returned from a week's vacation in Waltham, Mass., where they visited their son, the Rev. John A. Dusenberry and his family. While there they visited in Boston, Concord and Lexington. On the way they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sleeman of Lima, N.Y. formerly of Lisbon.

Rogers

Cub Scouts of the Rogers Methodist Church, Pack 8, met at Valley Park recently for a picnic supper.

Dens 1, 2 and 3 did an olympic show with the United States, Greece and Spain as contestants.

Winners in the various events were Gary Gorby, high jump; Billy Green, Gregg Lipp, running broad jump; George Heller and Hally Gorby, sack race; Billy Green, Gregg Lipp, standing broad jump.

Gary Gorby received a cub scout ring for selling the most new 50-star American flags for Pack 8.

The pack will take part in the Cub Scout Jubilee celebration on July 22 and 23 at the Lisbon fairgrounds.

A flag raising ceremony was held July 4 at the Rogers square at 10 a.m. by Troop 40 of East Fairfield and Pack 8 of Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gorby Sr. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Muslonski of Calcutta. The occasion was Mrs. Gorby's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O. Smith spent the past week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith of Ravenwood, W. Va.

DOCTOR GOES ON TRIAL

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Robert R. Freund, 57, of Branch Hill, will go on trial Oct. 11 on a charge of abortion causing death. The trial date was fixed Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Harry R. Britton after Freund pleaded innocent.

Freund was indicted in the death April 19 of Mrs. Beatrice Vrentas, 28, of Cincinnati. He died in the doctor's office but he has claimed she came there only to seek medical aid.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: It's none of my business but I'd like to ask you a question.

Recently you advised a young wife to "go where the grapes grow." She had an ambitious husband who kept getting promoted and transferred and she was sick and tired of moving around the country. You said it's the wife's duty to go with her husband wherever he can do a little better.

It's might easy for you to hand out high-sounding advice, sitting there in Chicago, Ann, but I wonder how much moving around YOU have done?—JUST ASKING.

Dear Just Asking: You don't have to be a cow to know what milk is — but it just so happens that I've had some experience along these lines.

In 21 years of marriage we moved from Sioux City, Iowa, to St. Louis, back to Sioux City, to Little Rock, to New Orleans, to Milwaukee, to Los Angeles, to Chicago, to Eau Claire, Wis., and nine years later back to Chicago. Any more questions?

Winner Takes All

Dear Ann: My father died, leaving two teen-age boys. The oldest one is living with us. He works and sends almost all his money home to Mom. The younger boy was just graduated from high school and has lined up a job in this town, too, which means he'll also be living with us soon.

We have two youngsters and are having a tough time making ends meet. I've asked my mother to come live with us because it would be much easier than sending her money every month to keep her house up.

The trouble is my sister wants her, too. Sis likes to sleep late and run around a lot. When Mom visits her it's like she is a maid and housekeeper for the four kids. My sister's husband makes twice as much money as mine but they don't send Mom a dime. My brother-in-law is eager to have Mom because he wants a big breakfast and never gets it unless Mom is there.

I say if my sister wants Mom she should take the boys, too. She says since she has four kids and I have only two it's unfair of me to expect her to take them. What is your opinion?—TAMARA.

Dear Tamara: If your sister wants a maid (I mean your mother) she should take the brothers, too. If she refuses to take the boys, your mother should stay with you since you are willing to take everybody.

Careless Writers

Dear Ann: You are a fake. I wrote you twice and you didn't answer. Both times I enclosed a stamped envelope addressed to Ann Landers. I'll bet you have plenty of stamped envelopes lying around. I dare you to print this—FORMER FAN.

Dear Former: You are right. I DO have plenty of stamped envelopes lying around — and they are worthless because they are addressed to Ann Landers instead of to the person who wants the advice. It's amazing how many people make this mistake. A reader who wants advice in the mail should address the envelope to himself — not to me.

Confidentially

TO DEPRESSED: You need your spirits lifted, not your face. Age is a matter of outlook, interests and what's between your eyebrows and hairline.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

and swallowed her sleeping pills preparatory to the nightly struggle with insomnia.

When she awakened in the morning, her husband had already left for work. She gulped down her multivitamins, pep-up and appetite-killing pills and was about to tackle the seaweed biscuits and blackstrap molasses when the phone rang.

In response to an inquiry about her state of health, she replied, "she was more dead than alive." And that, dear readers, is how I discovered you can die of improvements.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

One Can 'Die of Improvements'

You've probably heard the expression "dying of improvements" and maybe it has puzzled you as it used to puzzle me. Perhaps its meaning will become clearer to you if I tell you how I came to see the light.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

nor toiled.

On arising each morning, she took her multivitamin and appetite-killing pills. These were followed by a "health" breakfast that consisted of mixed vegetable juices, black coffee with a sugar substitute, and seaweed biscuits, spread with blackstrap molasses.

AFTER SHE'D wheeled her doctor's nurse into sneaking her in an empty room so she could get her "gland shot" without delay, she hastened to the podiatrist to see if something couldn't be done to her bunions that, in her own words, "were killing her."

Faint from her morning activities, she stopped in for a "bite of lunch" and chose the "low calorie special" of juice, lean hamburger, water cress and a gelatin dessert.

Fearing that service might be slow, she ordered a cocktail from which she removed the olive because of her fat-free diet.

Absent-mindedly she buttered and ate a few rolls that happened to be on the table before she realized what she was doing.

AFTER LUNCHEON, she visited her psychiatrist who was "working with her" in an attempt to explain why she continued to feel so miserable despite diet, drugs, gland shots, vitamins and health foods.

Just as they were getting to the point of deciding whether her persistent symptoms were due to the children's neglect or her husband's lack of sympathy and understanding, the scheduled hour came to an end.

Before leaving the psychiatrist's office, she took a tranquilizer to calm her nerves while she had a permanent and a manicure.

Noting her restlessness, the beautician urged her to have a container of coffee and some pastry. After some hesitation, she agreed and not being able to choose which piece of pastry had greatest a peal, she ate two and a portion of a third.

SHE SHOPPED and returned home to find her husband buried in his newspaper. Acting on that suggestion of her psychiatrist, she began a discussion of her ailments and complaints.

When she saw that he was less than attentive, she retreated to the kitchen and prepared the evening meal that was eaten amidst silence.

By the time the kitchen was cleared the master of the house was comfortably seated before the TV screen for the ball game.

Remarking that he "seemed more interested in that stupid game than his own wife," she retreated to the bedroom.

THERE SHE fussed with her hair, rubbed face and neck with anti-wrinkle cream, put on hair net, chin strap and eye shade, inserted wax balls in her ear canals

Food Tastes Turn To Steaks, Beef This Weekend

By The Associated Press
 Steaks and roasts of beef will be the top attraction at many American dinners this weekend, judging by the offerings of supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.
 Fresh fruits and vegetables also should be much in evidence if housewives take advantage of the bargains resulting from heavy supplies of many produce items.
 Steak varieties available as "specials" this week range from sirloin and porterhouse in the East and round steak in the Midwest to chuck steak in the Far West. Roasts also vary, with rib roast in the East and Middle Atlantic areas, chuck roast in the Midwest and pot roast in the Far West.
 Frequent offerings of beef stem from more abundant supplies this year.
 Prices are up here and down there for both steak and roasts. Veal and pork chops are marked up 4 to 6 cents a pound in scattered sections, while fryers show price gains of as much as 10 cents a pound.
 Food specialists point out now is a good time for buying cottage cheese, since supplies are abundant because of the heavy production of milk. Also, such salad items as lettuce also are plentiful.
 New arrivals this week include local cherries, currants and a wide variety of berries.
 Best buys among vegetables are said to be snap beans, potatoes, squash, celery, cabbage, collards, kale, radishes and green onions. Other good buys include corn, eggplant, endive, escarole, broccoli, peppers, onions, cucumbers, carrots and cauliflower.

Deaths and Funerals

Daniel M. Butler

Daniel M. Butler, 63, of 1250 Eastview Drive died suddenly of an internal hemorrhage Wednesday at 6 p. m. in the Central Clinic, where he was admitted Tuesday.

Born in Biedler, O., Sept. 27, 1896, he was a son of Thomas and Ann Butler. He had lived in Salem since 1935, coming from Sebring.

He retired Jan. 1, 1959 from the Youngstown Kitchens Division, where he was superintendent of the enameling department. He had worked at Mullins and Youngstown Kitchens for 30 years.

He was a member of the Salem City Lodge, Salem Chapter Royal Arch Masons and the Elks Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Bertha Roach Butler, whom he married Nov. 17, 1917; a son, Harold Butler of Maple Heights; two daughters, Mrs. Jane Fuchs of Cuyahoga Falls and Mrs. Barbara Green of Salem; 10 grandchildren; a brother, William of Sebring; and three sisters, Mrs. Van Nylar of Sebring, Mrs. Harold Miller of Crestline and Mrs. Leo Ellwood of Canton.

Funeral service will be Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Stark Memorial, with the Rev. Harold Deitch, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Hope Cemetery. Friends may call at the Memorial Friday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. George Cristo

Mrs. Mary Cristo, 67, of 1150 Liberty St. died Wednesday at 10:45 a. m. in the Central Clinic. She had been ill three months.

Born in Romania May 22, 1893, she came to Salem in 1910.

She was a member of the Romanian Pentecostal Church of Youngstown.

Besides her husband, George Cristo, she is survived by two sons of a former marriage, John Grell at home and Mike Grell of Sebring; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Rosta of Youngstown and Mrs. Ennis Metts of Salem; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She was the last of her immediate family.

Service will be Saturday at 3:30 p. m. at the Stark Memorial, with the Rev. Steve Schok of Youngstown and the Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor of the local Baptist Church, officiating.

Interment will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Memorial any time this evening or Friday afternoon or evening.

George B. Butler

COLUMBIANA — George B. Butler, 82, of the Columbiana-Leetonia Road, died at 12:25 p. m. Wednesday in Salem City Hospital.

Born at Vienna, July 8, 1877, he was the son of Amos and Sylvia Baker Butler. In 1900 he married Nora Leaf, who survives.

A resident here for the past 58 years, he came from Washingtonville. He was employed as a plasterer, retiring in 1945.

Besides his wife, he leaves three sons, Russell, Richard and Charles, all of Columbiana; 11 grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Ladigo, died three years ago.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Fry Funeral Home. The Rev. Charles Lang, supply pastor of Grace United Church of Christ, will officiate, with burial in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 7 to 9 p. m.

New Facts About Astronauts Revealed In FW Interview

Some time in the not too distant future, seven young Americans will be blasted into space. Despite the great deal of publicity surrounding these astronauts, little is really known about them by the public.

For instance, there has been an earnest effort to convince everyone that the astronauts are "regular guys." But they're not. The very nature of Project Mercury sets them apart from ordinary men. Also, much public emphasis has been placed on which astronaut will be the first sent into space. Actually, this means relatively little to the men themselves. All are qualified and all will eventually go.

In the Family Weekly exclusive, "What You Don't Know About the Astronauts" some surprising and hitherto-unknown facts are revealed about our future space men. Don't miss it in Family Weekly, distributed with your Saturday edition of THE SALEM NEWS.

The same issue presents two highly informative features: "The Man to Watch at the Democratic Convention" which discusses the political destiny of Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, who will be Chairman of next week's big political pow wow, and "The Strange Powers of Gerard Croiset" — the fascinating story of a clairvoyant who has solved countless "insoluble" police cases.

Regular Family Weekly features include some delicious "hot dog" recipes, the riddles and games of the Junior Treasure Chest, and the jokes and cartoons of Quips and Quotes.

Mrs. Dominic DiAntonio

Mrs. Rita DiAntonio, 59, of 513 Walnut St., died at 9:15 a. m. today in Salem City Hospital, where she was admitted June 18.

Born Oct. 24, 1900 she was a daughter of John and Antoinette Zoccol. She came to Salem from Italy in 1922.

She was a member of St. Paul Catholic Church, its Altar and Rosary Society and the Ladies Italian Society.

Her husband, Dominic, whom she married Nov. 9, 1922, survives.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Felix and John, both of Salem; eight grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Louis Deitel, Mrs. Louis Nonno, Mrs. Florence Zappone and Mrs. John Santini, all of Salem, and Assunda of Italy; and two brothers, Mike and Ralph Zoccol both of Salem.

Funeral service will be Saturday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Paul Church. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Stark Memorial Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Russell Frederick

SEBRING — Russell Frederick, 53, of 226 W. Oregon Ave., died Wednesday afternoon at Alliance City Hospital. He had been ill two days.

Born in Garfield, July 7, 1906, he was the son of Amos and Nellie Summerville Frederick.

He was employed as a packer at the Royal China Co. here.

Survivors include his wife, Beatrice; a daughter, Mary L. Frederick at home; two sisters, Mrs. Melva Arnold of Sebring and Mrs. Pearl Wyatt of Huntington Park, Calif.

Private services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the Stark Memorial. The Rev. David Koch of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate, with burial in Grandview Cemetery here.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening 7 to 9.

Mrs. Homer Wright

LISBON — Mrs. Winfred Wright, 85, of 209 E. Lincoln Way, died Wednesday noon at the home of her son, Martin Scallely in Canton, after a six-month illness.

She was born Sept. 17, 1874 in Staffordshire, England, a daughter of John and Mary Lally Scallely and had lived in this vicinity most of her life. Her husband, Homer, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Wright was a member of the St. George Church.

Besides her son she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Nellie McEvoy of Mt. Clemens, Mich., and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 9:30 a. m. at the St. George church by the Rev. Fr. William Hohman. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Eells-Leggett funeral home Friday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. Rosary will be said Friday at 8 p. m.

Premium Booklets For Canfield Fair Sept. 1-5 Ready

The 114th annual premium list covering more than $43,000 in awards to be offered for displays, exhibits and competitions at Canfield Fair, Sept. 1-5, went into the mail today, it was announced by Miss Grace Williams, executive secretary of the Mahoning County Agricultural Society.

Appearing in a canary yellow cover imprinted with brown ink the attractive booklet contains 80 pages of information of interest and value to exhibitors at the Fair.

The title page contains an impressive illustration of the Kilcawley Gate, as soon from Route 45. Also contained in the booklet is a tribute to long-time Fair Board Secretary, E. R. Zieger, who died last December after having contributed a major portion of his life to the Canfield Fair.

Among the many new classes which premiums will be offered for the first time this year is a division consisting of 12 special items in domestic arts completed by persons 70 years of age and over. There will be two competitions in the gift-wrapping contest.

Special awards which were offered for the first time last year and which proved so popular as to warrant repetition are the best of show yeast baking award which covers all yeast-baked bread, sweet bread or rolls; a special competition for canned fruits and a special canned vegetable entry. Entable competition are to consist of a choice of any 10 varieties in quart jars, none of which are to compete in any other classes.

Copies of the premium list are available by mail through the Secretary's office at 12 W. Main St., Canfield.

ist members of Parliament, were hospitalized. The street battle set off fistfights in the Chamber of Deputies.

The rioting produced another turbulent Parliamentary session today in the Senate as Socialists and Communists howled protests against police intervention in the Red-led demonstrations.

Charges by Interior Minister Giuseppe Spataro that the Communist party had planned and provoked the disorders brought a rising, angry clamor from the leftist senators.

Dynamite Shed Near Lisbon Is Entered

LISBON — Two youths broke into a dynamite shed Wednesday on the Industrial Mining Co. land about five miles southwest of Lisbon off Route 164, according to reports received at the sheriff's office.

The youths pried up the roof to gain entrance to the shed and had primer cord laying outside the shed when they were discovered. Sheriff Russell Van Fossan requests parents to caution their children to stay away from these storage sheds because of the danger of persons not knowing how to handle the explosives.

Heart Association Lists Contributions

Salem contributed $2,502.83 to the Youngstown Area Heart Association during 1960. This compares to $2,266.97 contributed a year ago.

In the three counties served by the Association the following funds were raised: Columbiana County $12,939.55; Mahoning County $57,501.84; Trumbull County $16,247.69.

John S. Andrews, chairman of the 1960 Heart Fund Campaign, said the total contributed at the end of the fiscal year, July 1, had amounted to $86,688.28. This was a decrease of $13,367.91 compared to 1959 although this year's contributions were three and one half per cent higher than a year ago. Special bequests were off, he said.

Violence Continues In African Nation Over Jail, Whites

LEOPOLDVILLE Congo (AP)

—Violence spread in this newly born African nation today despite appeals from its leaders for unity.

The latest outbreak was at Stanleyville, where inmates of the local jail smashed down the doors and ran through the city shouting "freedom, independence."

Police and military forces were called out to maintain order in the city, just below scenic Stanley Falls 775 miles northeast of the capital.

The new outbreak came as the mutiny sent a further wave to President Joseph Kasavubu sought to straighten out difficulties at Thysville, where mutinous Negro soldiers have held their white Belgian officers captive since Tuesday night.

The situation at Thysville, 75 miles southwest of Leopoldville, was described as quiet. But there was no word on what would be done to satisfy demands of the soldiers, who want the white officers replaced by Congolese. They also demand more pay.

Lumumba forced the resignation of Lt. Gen. Emile Janssens, commander of the 25,000-man Congo army, known as the "Force Publique."

Leopoldville, scene of a demonstration Wednesday by several hundred mutineers, was quiet.

The mutiny sent a further wave of apprehension through the thousands of Belgians still living in their former colony which became an independent nation last week.

Dems

was making his announcement because "it is apparent that the California delegation will be released from its favorite son commitment at a very early stage of the convention."

It was no secret that the hopes of those opposing Kennedy for the nomination rested precariously on the belief that Brown and Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania would hold out against a parade of their delegates to Kennedy on what could be the all-important first roll call.

Although backers of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas were fighting against any such side, the word from them was that they would not seek any rules change which would prevent switches of state support at the end of the initial tally.

John B. Connally, executive director of the Johnson Citizens Committee, said this matter hadn't even been discussed when Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, the convention's permanent chairman, called on him.

Collins is inclined to let states change their allegiance, but he has indicated he will bend over backward to prevent this from becoming a bandwagon movement for any particular candidate.

Nevertheless, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, arriving for the convention, predicted it will be Kennedy on the first ballot. Once a favorite son, Williams has come out publicly for the Massachusetts senator. He estimated that Kennedy will get 45 or 46 of Michigan's 51 votes on the initial tally.

On the other hand, backers of Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey went to the trouble of opening campaign headquarters for their favorite son candidate.

The Massachusetts senator has been looking with covetous eyes toward New Jersey's 41 votes. But intrastate rivalries among party members were credited with making Meyner adamant that Kennedy will have to do his early shopping elsewhere.

Aside from the maneuvering for the nomination, party leaders striving for a semblance of harmony obviously were irked by the announced intention of 30 civil rights-supporting organizations to present to the platform drafting committee a proposal for a strong plank on this issue.

Two embattled platform drafters, Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) and Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.), said that from their viewpoint they look for the worst.

Rev. Martin Luther King, Southern Negro leader, called upon the committee to endorse sit-ins at Dixie lunch counters as "a great, peaceful movement to attain racial equality."

Any such endorsement would be likely to generate a Southern walkout from the convention. Leaders have been striving desperately to prevent any such occurrence.

A stack of letter-size paper, three stories high, placed beside each of the 175 million persons in the United States would illustrate the amount of paper consumed annually in this country.

The first American Negro to be a state winner and compete in the pageant — although there have been Negro contestants from other countries — Corrine Huff of Youngstown, Ohio came through to the finals.

Just before the show began, Miss Huff received a letter. She read it and burst into tears. It took the combined efforts of many other contestants as well as pageant officials to calm her down enough to go on.

Afterwards, she explained that the letter was a vulgar, frank note and it upset her tremendously. She said it was mailed from New York.

GETS INSPECTOR GENERAL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There's a new inspector general for the 20th U.S. Army Corps' tri-state area of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia. He's Lt. Col. Robert T. Conebeer, who assumed his new duties Wednesday because of an Army change in inspection procedure. The task was performed previously by the Second U.S. Army.

MACHINIST KILLED
CINCINNATI (AP)—Donald Hehn, 33, a machinist was killed Wednesday as he fell 25 feet into a pit at the city waterworks plant. Hehn apparently slipped from a ladder as he was descending into the 80-foot pit.

Patrolman Robert Wilson seemed to have revived Hehn briefly by applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation but the man was dead on arrival at General Hospital.

SENSATIONAL NEW FAST DRYING LUCO-TEX SPEEDS UP HOUSE PAINTING

- Use on wood, masonry or asbestos
- Apply in wet, damp or dry weather
- Blister and peel resistant
- Quick drying—overlapping will not show
- Applies effortlessly—no brush pull

Laboratory tested for years, Lucas LUCO-TEX is now ready for YOU! Greater hiding power and coverage saves painting costs; applied on almost any exterior surface saves time—and it dries in minutes. Fact is, it dries so quickly you can apply two coats without need of moving ladders. And—no more sticky windows. Screens can be hung immediately after painting. Lap marks don't show—paint won't discolor or darken. Blister and peel resistant on a tight previously painted surface. It's smog-proof and mildew resistant. Just clean your brushes with soap and water. LUCO-TEX takes the "pain" out of painting.

Dozens of new, modern colors and white.

Hisey New Columbiana Streets Commissioner

COLUMBIANA — R. Donald Hisey, an employee of the village street department for the last four years, has been appointed street commissioner to fill out the unexpired term of the late Carl D. Spratt.

Hisey's appointment, effective on July 1, was announced by Mayor E. L. Calvin at the village council meeting this week. The appointment did not need confirmation by council.

A budget estimating expenditures of $533,400 for the fiscal year starting Jan. 1, 1961 was approved by council during the meeting. It will be submitted to the county auditor's office for consideration in allocation of tax moneys for next year. Largest items of the budget are the $245,000 in estimated expenses for the electric light department, $117,300 for the general fund and $38,500 for the water department.

Other items running in larger figures are: Street construction and maintenance, $31,000; sewer fund, $20,000; electric generating and equipment fund, $30,000; parking meter fund, $7,000; state highway improvement fund, $5,000; police pension fund, $4,050; firemen's pension fund, $3,600; special building and equipment fund, $3,000; park trust fund, $2,000 and cemetery trust fund, $3,000.

CLUB 12 MEMBERS will entertain husbands and children at a picnic Wednesday, July 20 at the home of Mrs. Ernest Zeitler on the Middleton Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Harold and family of Fairfield Ave. are moving this week to a home at 334 Union St. formerly occupied by the Rev. and Mrs. John L. Donley. S4 (specialist) John Gabriel, 23, son of Mrs. Concetta Gabriel of Leetonia, is serving as a security guard in the 24th Infantry Division's 2nd Infantry at Augsburg, Germany. He has been overseas since January of 1959.

Rev. and Mrs. Rodney C. Willke, newlyweds, are making their home at 711 S. High School Rd., Indianapolis, Ind. The bride is the former Marjorie Anderson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Aaron A. Anderson of Columbiana.

Instant Potatoes Fill Peppers

Potato farmers must be happy these days. The new instant potatoes in various forms, banishing peeling and slicing and mashing, have put potatoes back on the menu in many busy homes.

Instant whipped potato flakes, for example, versatile and easy, made of the best grade of white mashing potatoes, are transformed immediately into whipped potatoes when combined with hot water to which milk and butter have been added.

Because green peppers are a favorite for summer meals, let's use instant whipped potato flakes and the bright green peppers together.

Filled Green Peppers
(Makes 4 servings)

Four medium-sized green peppers, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ pound ground chuck, 1 medium-size onion, finely chopped; 1 teaspoon oregano, 1½ cups water, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup cold milk, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 envelope whipped potato flakes.

Wash the peppers; core and remove seeds. Place in boiling water, allow to boil 2 to 3 minutes.

Melt butter in skillet; add beef, chopped onion and oregano; saute in melted butter over low heat until beef is slightly browned.

Combine water and salt in medium-size saucepan, cover, bring to boil. Remove from heat. Add milk, butter, then instant whipped potato flakes. Whip gently with fork or wire whisk until all liquid is absorbed. Combine meat mixture with whipped potatoes.

Stuff the peppers with potato-meat mixture. Place in baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 to 35 minutes, or until peppers are tender.

If desired, serve with tomato sauce.

Barbecued Salmon

In New England, salmon is traditionally part of the summer feast. Barbecued salmon steaks, in New England or any other section of this food-loving nation, are a treat on any day of the long summer.

Barbecued Salmon Steaks
(Serves 6)

Two pounds salmon steaks or other fish steaks, fresh or frozen; ½ cup catsup, ¼ cup salad oil, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons hickory liquid smoke, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon grated onion, ¼ teaspoon powdered mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 clove garlic, finely chopped; 3 drops tabasco.

Thaw frozen steaks. Cut into serving-size portions. Place fish in a single layer in a shallow baking pan. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour sauce over fish and let stand for 30 minutes, turning once. Remove fish, reserving sauce for basting. Place fish in well-greased, hinged wire grill. Cook on a barbecue grill about 4 inches from moderately hot coals for 8 minutes. Baste with remaining sauce. Turn and cook for 7 to 10 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

That tested recipe comes from a special 34-page booklet just published by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Called "Outdoor Fish Cookery," it contains many recipes, practical tips for outdoor chefs and barbecue ideas. We think it one of the best new guides to outdoor cooking available.

Cleveland Halted 7-5 by Two Chicago Home Runs

Sievers, Freese Blast Indians

Tribe Drops Two Games Behind Yanks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Who said the Chicago White Sox are a bunch of patty-cakes and can't hit home runs? They hit two Wednesday night—and it was enough to halt Cleveland's five-game winning streak.

The White Sox beat the Indians 7-5 in the opener of a two-game series when Roy Sievers, one of the players picked up for added power, blasted a two-run homer in the ninth. It snapped a 5-5 tie.

Gene Freese, another player acquired for his long-ball ability, cracked a solo homer in the eighth to even the count.

The Indians wiped out a 3-0 Chicago lead and chased old nemesis Early Wynn with a five-run explosion in the fourth frame. Woodie Held's 15th homer, with two aboard was the big rocket.

But Bobby Locke (1-1) couldn't hold the 5-3 advantage. He hurled 6 1-3 innings in relief of starter Dick Stigman who gave up the first three runs in the opening two rounds.

Remember when the White Sox dashed to the pennant in 1959 with a combination of walks, bunts, stolen bases and sacrifice flies—plus a tight defense and clutch pitching? That season they hit only 97 homers, lowest in the league.

The White Sox are slightly better this season with 50 homers. Of that total, Minnie Mino has 10, Sievers 11 and Freese 6—for a total of 27.

And remember when the Indians were home run terrors in 1959—leading the league with 167? This season they've hit only 59.

But the worst part of this home run business is the Cleveland pitching staff's weakness for permitting the opposition to hit them. Tribe hurlers have allowed 70 roundtrippers, an average of one a game.

Gerry Staley (9-3), Chicago's relief artist who seems to get better as the years roll by, threw four scoreless innings at the Indians Wednesday night. He retired 11 straight, until Bob Hale and Ken Aspromonte touched him for back-to-back singles with two out in the ninth.

But Jim Piersall, set up for a hero's role, bounced into a force play to close out the game which consumed four minutes more than three hours.

The Indians' big inning came on consecutive singles by Tito Francona, Vic Power and Johnny Romano, followed by Held's blast over the left field fence. Wynn left at that point, replaced by Russ Kemmerer, who allowed one more run. It came on a single by Locke, a groundout, a passed ball and Aspromonte's sacrifice fly.

Cleveland now trails the league-leading New York Yankees by two games. Jim Perry (9-3) gets a chance tonight to show Chicago skipper Al Lopez he made a mistake in passing him over for the All-Star game. Perry's opponent is Billy Pierce (7-3), who holds three triumphs over the Indians.

Musial, Ten Pitchers Named National League All-Stars

CINCINNATI (AP)—Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers today filled out the National League All-Star games roster and it included the veteran Stan Musial.

Alston also named a staff of 10 pitchers for the two games with the American League All-Stars to be played at Kansas City next Monday and at New York Wednesday.

The pitchers Alston selected were: Bob Buhl of Milwaukee; Elroy Face, Bob Friend and Vernon Law of Pittsburgh; Bill Henry of Cincinnati; Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel of St. Louis; Mike McCormick of San Francisco and Johnny Podres and Stan Williams of Alston's Los Angeles club.

It was both sentiment and respect for Musial's hitting ability that led to his selection although the Cardinal veteran, nearing the end of his career, has played in only 53 games this year and 14 of them were as only a pinch hitter.

"Sure, sentiment entered into it," said Alston but he added: "He (Musial) is the kind of a man I'd like to have around if a situation develops in the ball game where a big hit could win the game. Stan is hitting again and is capable of winning the game for us with a timely blow in the right spot."

Musial is hitting .281 with 39 hits in 139 times at bat. He has batted in 19 runs.

Players picked the starting lineups, excluding pitchers, for the games and Alston went along with them by naming all of the second choices to the squad.

To supplement the starters, Alston named Smokey Burgess of Pittsburgh, and Ed Bailey of Cincinnati as catchers; Ken Boyer and Bill White of St. Louis, Dick Groat of Pittsburgh, Norm Lanier and Charlie Neal of Los Angeles, and Tony Taylor of Philadelphia, infielders; Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco, Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, Vada Pinson of Cincinnati and Musial as outfielders.

Musial, Cepeda and White all have played both first base and in the outfield.

The National League's starting lineup will have Del Crandall of Milwaukee, catcher; Joe Adcock, Milwaukee, first base; Bill Mazeroski, Pittsburgh, second base; Ernie Banks, Chicago, shortstop; Ed Mathews, Milwaukee, third base; and Hank Aaron, Milwaukee and Bob Skinner, Pittsburgh, outfielders.

The Indians' big inning came on consecutive singles by Tito Francona, Vic Power and Johnny Romano, followed by Held's blast over the left field fence. Wynn left at that point, replaced by Russ Kemmerer, who allowed one more run. It came on a single by Locke, a groundout, a passed ball and Aspromonte's sacrifice fly.

Cleveland now trails the league-leading New York Yankees by two games. Jim Perry (9-3) gets a chance tonight to show Chicago skipper Al Lopez he made a mistake in passing him over for the All-Star game. Perry's opponent is Billy Pierce (7-3), who holds three triumphs over the Indians.

Phillies Knock Braves 8-5

Dodgers Ram Giants; Cubs Whip Cards

By The Associated Press When the other contenders start getting beat on three-run homers by pitchers, Charlie, it's time to start getting excited about those Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League race.

And the time is now. Gene Conley, a one-time Milwaukee right-hander, tagged a two-out homer with two on that gave Philadelphia an 8-5, 10-inning victory over the second place Braves Wednesday night.

And right-hander Stan Williams socked a three-run shot while blanking third place San Francisco on three hits as the Los Angeles Dodgers clobbered the Giants 10-0.

That sent the Pirates into a 5 1/2-game lead, the largest of the season in the majors. They made it with a 5-2 victory over Cincinnati—breaking up Bob Purkey's two-hit shutout in a five-run eighth capped by Bob Skinner's inside-the-park grand slam home run.

The last place Chicago Cubs, with Ernie Banks hitting his 25th home run and George Altman driving in six runs with two homers, whipped St. Louis 10-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees regained a two-game bulge by rapping third place Baltimore 5-2 while Chicago's White Sox beat the second place Indians 7-5.

Southpaw Bud Daley became the majors' top winner with 12 as Kansas City beat Detroit 6-4, and Washington defeated Boston 4-0.

Conley (5-4), who also pitched two perfect innings of relief for the victory, hung the Braves' third straight defeat on reliever Don McMahon (2-6) with his second home run in the majors.

Tony Gonzalez also fanned for the seventh-place Phils, off Bob Buhl in a two-run first inning. The Braves, who pulled off the NL's first triple play in two seasons, got a homer from Joe Adcock, but blew a 5-4 lead behind reliever Ron Piche on B. G. Smith's tying infield hit in the ninth.

Williams (8-2), named to the All-Star team today, cracked his second major league home run in the fourth inning for a 4-0 lead against loser Billy O'Dell (3-8).

Purkey (8-4) shattered his shut-out against his ex-mates by forcing Pittsburgh's tying run with a bases-loaded walk. Tom Cheney (1-1) gave way to a pinch-hitter in the eighth, but gained his first major league victory. Gus Bell and Ed Bailey homered for the Reds' runs.

Banks' three-run homer won it for the Cubs in the second inning against Bob Gibson (1-2). Glen Hobbie (8-10) was the winner.

Yankees Down Orioles 5-2; Athletics, Senators Rally

By The Associated Press Southpaw Bud Daley, who won 16 with seventh place Kansas City in his first full season last year, figured he still had to win respect from American League hitters.

That was four months ago, in spring training. Now he's won respect and just about everything else in sight—still pitching for the seventh place A's but leading the majors with 12 victories and a cinch to be the starting pitcher in Monday's All-Star game.

Daley (12-4) made it a dozen with a six-hitter for a 64 decision over Detroit Wednesday night.

Whitey Ford won his third in a row as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 5-2 and regained a two-game lead over Cleveland. The Chicago White Sox ended the Indians' winning string at five with a 7-5 decision on Roy Sievers' two-run homer in the ninth.

And Washington whipped Boston 4-0 as Jack Kralick shut out the Red Sox at Fenway Park.

In the National League, Pittsburgh rolled 5 1/2 games in front by beating Cincinnati 5-2. Philadelphia defeated second place Milwaukee 8-5 in 10 innings. Los Angeles walloped third place San Francisco. Chicago's Cubs rapped St. Louis 10-1.

Jerry Lumpe's second RBI double broke a 4-4 tie for the A's in the eighth, and he came home with the clincher on a wild pitch by Frank Lary. Daley gave up a three-run homer by Al Kaline in the sixth. The Tigers' other run was unearned.

The Yankees handed Oriole right-hander Skinny Brown his third defeat in 10 decisions with a two-run eighth. A walk and Mickey Mantle's triple scored the winning run, and Roger Maris, who hit his 27th home run in the

Pittsburgh Beats Cincinnati 5-2 With Inside-Park Homer

Skinner's Blast Gets Past Post

Blow Comes Off
Henry In 8th Inning

CINCINNATI (AP)—An inside-park home run in the Cincinnati Reds' Crosley Field is a rarity because of the short distances to the walls. When one comes on a simple line drive and with the bases loaded it's almost time for a congressional investigation.

To make it even worse for Cincinnati fans, such a blow Wednesday night not only cost the Reds a ball game but came after Bob Purkey, who always says you have to have luck with ability, had held the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates to two hits in seven innings.

The home run by Bob Skinner gave Pittsburgh a 5-2 victory.

Purkey had plenty of ability through the first seven innings. Then he ran out of luck, ability and control in the eighth.

The Skinner hit was no more than a line drive to left. Wally Post tried to make a shoestring catch and missed. The ball rolled to the left field wall only a little more than 330 feet from home plate.

By the time Vada Pinson had sprinted over from center field to retrieve the ball, Skinner was across the plate behind the other three runners and he didn't even have to slide.

The homer was hit off reliever Bill Henry, who had just taken over the pitching chores, but the defeat, of course, was charged to Purkey.

Purkey let a man get to third with one out in the first inning but got out of trouble and never was threatened through the next six innings.

Meanwhile, he got a 1-0 lead in the third on Gus Bell's sixth home run.

In the eighth, Purkey, long known for his control, issued walks to Don Hoak, Bill Virdon and Dick Groat and gave a single to Bill Mazeroski. The walk to Groat forced in the tying run and set the stage for Skinner.

At that, the Reds gave the Pirates a chill in the ninth. Paul Giel relieved starter Tom Cheney for the Bucs in the eighth. In the ninth he yielded a home run to Ed Bailey. With two out Billy Martin singled and pinch hitter Jerry Lynch walked.

Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh brought Elroy Face to the rescue and he ended things by making pinch hitter Frank Robinson ground out, preserving Cheney's first big league triumph.

Newlywed Jim O'Toole of the Reds and Wilmer Mizell of the Bucs are scheduled to pitch in tonight's game.

GAME RESCHEDULED
The Class A City League softball game between First Salem Corp. and Purity Dairy which was rained out earlier this month has been rescheduled for 6:45 p.m. Friday at Centennial Park.

The three league games carded for Kelley Field Friday night will be played as scheduled.

Rowing Crews Battle for Olympic Seat

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The rowers, probably the most anonymous and most dedicated athletes in American sports, today began a three-day battle on Onondaga Lake for the right to represent Uncle Sam in the Rome Olympics.

A record field of 76—two more than in 1956—was entered in the seven events of the Olympic trials during the day.

The winners of today's heats with a few exceptions, qualify for the Friday semifinals. Four crews will comprise the final field in each event Saturday.

The spotlight was on the more glamorous two of the seven events—the eights, in which California and Harvard were favored, and the single sculls in which Navy Lt. Harry Parker was the stickout.

Four years ago in Australia, the U.S. won three championships, two seconds and one third.

California, winner of the Syracuse—IRA and Harvard's veteran sweepstrikers, were rated just a shade over Cornell's two crews, Navy's varsity and unbeaten plebes, Washington, Pennsylvania, Brown, Syracuse Alumni Rowing Assn., the Detroit Boat Club and Union Boat Club of Boston.

The short distance makes it an event almost any crew can win. All races in the trials were over the Olympic distance of 2,000 meters (1¼ miles).

Late Models to Race On Canfield Track
The late model driving stars will be back in action at Canfield Speedway Saturday night, including the midseason champion, Jim Sickerstaff of Youngstown.

Bickerstaff defeated a field of 22 starters in the 50-lap title race on Monday night. Bud Cochran of Sharon was second, with Scotty Rogers of Chagrin Falls, third.

These three will rate as the favorites Saturday night when the late models get together for an eight-race program.

Also listed among the starters will be Dick Langt of Newton Falls, Bill Forney of Youngstown, Nook and Gary Walters of Niles, Bob Cain of Alliance, Bill Watson of Youngstown, Ed Mitchell and Bob Brocius of Warren, Bob Ague and Ken Redick of Vienna, Carl Fishel of Canfield and Frank Myers of Warren.

Forney will be anxious to gain revenge for his setback Monday night. Forney was running fifth most of the way, but spun out on the 45th lap when he tangled with Lantz. Forney got back in the race after losing a lap and had to settle for 10th spot.

Meanwhile, Walters moved in to grab fifth spot.

A 25-lap feature will headline the eight races Saturday. Also carded are four heat races, helmet dash, two pursuits and the consolation. Race time is 8:30 p.m. with time trials at 7.

Paul Parks of Columbus was the winner of the new car race last week. Parks beat out Harold Smith of Dayton in a duel that was wheel-to-wheel for 70 laps.

The new cars will return to Canfield for another 100-lap race July 30.

Scott's, Stamping Tied For First In Slo-Pitch League

Scott's Candy and Salem Stamping share first place in the Slo-Pitch Softball League as a result of action Wednesday night at Kelley Field.

Scott's (formerly the Independents) pounded out a 14-4 decision over the Jaycees, and Stamping won by forfeit from Eljer to give the co-holders of first place 2-0 records. In the other Slo-Pitch League game played last night, B&W Research shutout previously unbeaten Perry Grange, 4-0.

John Lucas legged out a first inning home run for Scott's Candy which got his club off to a 4-0 lead over the Jaycees. The first four Jaycees batters up in the game all hit safely as Manager George Ehrhart's club tallied three times to cut the deficit to one run.

A six-run outburst in the third inning by Scott's settled the game. Keith Laughlin and Jess Gray rapped out three hits apiece for Scott's. Bob Conroy accounted for two of the Jaycees' seven hits.

A rarity in slow pitch softball, a shutout, was turned in by Paul Thys of B&W Research who last year pitched in the fast leagues here.

Thys gave Perry Grange six hits in recording the 4-0 victory. Malloy of Perry Grange also yielded six hits. However, B&W was able to bunch three of its blows in the second inning when three runs came home.

Campbell of B&W and Kerestes of Perry Grange each had two hits.

Mosquito Reservoir Walleyes Are Biting

Walleye fishing success continues to be "terrific" at Mosquito Creek Reservoir, according to Dan Armbruster, Wildlife District 3 fish management supervisor. He declared it was exceeding earlier predictions.

Over the recent weekend an estimated 800 walleyes were caught, down 200 from the number taken during the preceding weekend but still high. The catch averaged 16 inches and some walleyes weighed up to five pounds.

Mosquito Creek Reservoir, in Trumbull County, is presently the top walleye lake in Ohio, closely followed by Lake Milton, Mahoning County. Mosquito reached its peak late in May but big strings continue to be commonplace.

Berlin Reservoir, Mahoning, Portage and Stark counties, is beginning to live up to early predictions as walleyes are now being

Old Hot Dog Gets New Twist

Here's a hot dog with a new twist — or should we say curl? It's a broiled round kraut dog. You curl slits in the frankfurters and broil or cook over an outdoor grill. They curl into a circle.

Serve on toasted hamburger buns and fill the centers with zesty sauerkraut relish. Kraut is a natural barbecued meat topper, for ly chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped canned pimento. Cut 5 slits in frankfurters without cutting all the way through. Broil frankfurters 5 to 7 inches from source of heat for 3 to 5 minutes. Turn and broil about 3 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine undrained kraut, horseradish and garlic salt. Heat to serving temperature; drain. Arrange frankfurters, kraut green pepper and pimento on bun bottoms. Top with bun tops.

Kraut Salad (Makes 4 servings)

Two cups sauerkraut, drained; 1 4 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1 cup grated carrot, 2-3 cup chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon celery seed, salt and pepper to taste, 1-3 cup French dressing, crisp lettuce leaves, 1 tomato, cut in wedges.

Combine kraut, ham, carrot, green pepper, celery seed, salt and pepper and French dressing; mix well. Arrange on lettuce leaves and garnish with tomato wedges.

Fruit Loaf Enhances Buffet

For a special luncheon or party buffet, a handsome fruit loaf with flower design is a delicious conversation piece. It can be sliced as a salad or dessert. With a little patience you can create a beautiful effect.

Designer Salad

Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, 2-3 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 cups water, divided; 1/4 cup lemon juice, cantaloupe, honeydew melon, strawberries.

Mix together gelatin, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in 1 cup of the water. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Remove from heat. Stir in remaining water and lemon juice.

To make side and top designs on mold: set 6-cup loaf pan in container with ice cubes and water. Coat sides of chilled 6-cup loaf pan with gelatin mixture. Pour additional gelatin mixture 1/2-inch deep in bottom of pan. Chill until almost firm.

Place thinly sliced melon and strawberry slices to form designs around sides and bottom of pan. Gently spoon additional gelatin mixture over bottom floral design to cover. Chill until almost firm. Chill remaining gelatin mixture until the consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Fold in 1/4 cup each diced cantaloupe, diced honeydew and sliced strawberries. Turn into gelatin mold; chill until firm. Serve with strawberry whipped cream dressing.

Strawberry Whipped Cream Dressing

One-half cup heavy mayonnaise, 1/2 cup sliced strawberries, 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped. Blend mayonnaise and strawberries; fold in whipped cream.

Turkeys Lead List Of July Plentifuls

Roast turkey, barbecued turkey, turkey a la king, cold sliced turkey, turkey hash — those are different ways to spell July. According to U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, turkey will be No. 1 food on the July list of plentiful — at least 10 per cent more than last July.

That's good food budget news, particularly now as the cost of living index keeps slowly on its upward trend. It means also that now is the time to get out your favorite cookbooks and discover new and more interesting ways to cook and serve these plump American birds in search of an eager dinner plate.

Other July plentifuls (and that should mean lower prices) include summer vegetables, succulent watermelons, fresh peaches, cooling lemons and limes. Also another American favorite — ice cream.

Certainly nature is being good to hot-weather appetites. The food experts of the Department of Agriculture suggest greater use of sour cream in summer menus. So do gourmets. Here are a few ways to enjoy it:

Serve "as is" (add sugar, if desired) with strawberries, pitted sweet cherries, canned peaches, or fresh garden vegetables for a lunch or delicacy or mid-afternoon refreshment. Use whipped sour cream as a topping for cakes, pies and pastries, much as you would sweet cream.

Before whipping, be sure to chill both the bowl and beater. It doesn't become stiff, but whips up fluffy and almost double in volume. Pile on top of gingerbread, spice cake or pudding and garnish attractively with shaved curls of chocolate, chopped pecans or almonds, or crushed peppermint stick candy.

Cooked sour cream dressing is good with meat, fish, poultry or vegetable salads. To make: blend sour cream, eggs, vinegar and seasoning.

The Kentucky FRIED CHICKEN

soning and cook over boiling water until thickened.

For an easy-to-make dressing, combine sour cream, lemon juice, sugar and salt; beat until thoroughly blended and chill well. Try adding chopped mint leaves. Wonderful on fruit salad.

Easy Scallopine

Ingredients: 1 large egg, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, pepper, 8 large paper-thin slices (about 1 1/4 pounds) tender boneless veal (from leg), 2-3 cup prepared bread crumb mix, 1-3 1/2 cup butter, tomato sauce.

Method: Beat egg until foamy; beat in lemon juice, salt and a dash of pepper to combine. Dip each veal slice in the egg mixture, then in crumbs.

Heat half the butter in a large (about 12-inch) skillet and add as many veal slices as will fit in one layer.

Over medium heat brown on both sides — about 4 minutes. Cook remaining veal the same way adding butter as needed.

Keep hot in a 250 degrees oven until all pieces are ready for serving. Makes 4 servings.

Note: The prepared bread crumb mix called for contains toasted crumbs, Italian cheese, spices, herbs and monosodium-glutamate.

Reds Hope Rocket Will Reach Mars

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets have started their new series of long-range rocket tests to pave the way for attempts at Mars, Venus or putting a man into space.

The first of the new rockets was fired into the central Pacific Tuesday, traveling 8,000 miles "in exact accordance with the pre-set program," the Soviets said.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the shot "marks the beginning of the testing of new types of powerful, multi-stage carrier rockets for space exploration." It made no mention of the rockets' military potential as an intercontinental carrier for nuclear weapons.

The final stage of the rocket — a dummy of the instrument or man-carrying chamber that would be used in a space probe — "reached the water surface in close proximity to the target," Tass said.

The range claimed was 850 miles more than that reported for the rocket the Soviets test-fired into the central Pacific in January. The Soviets said that one came within a mile of the target.

The United States holds the distance record for rocket shoots. A U.S. Atlas ballistic missile traveled 9,000 miles on May 20, from Cape Canaveral into the Indian Ocean. The Defense Department said the Atlas fell in a pre-selected target area.

Of the latest test, Tass and the rocket's dummy last stage had been "adapted for passage through dense layers of the atmosphere." This could indicate that the Soviets are preparing to try to bring back and recover a nose cone from outer space, a necessary preliminary to sending a man into space.

Munchin' Crackers Appealing

Take a hot summer day, a basket of he-man crackers made of cheese, enriched corn meal and poppy and sesame seeds, a large bowl of crisply cold salad, and start munching.

That's one way to take your mind off the weather and stay well nourished at the same time. Like the idea? Well, then here is the new recipe for those he-man Munchin' Crackers:

Munchin' Crackers
(Makes 16 large crackers)

Two cups sifted enriched flour, 1 cup enriched corn meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese, 3/4 cup milk, poppy seed, sesame seed.

Heat oven to hot (425 degrees F.). Sift together flour, corn meal and salt into bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in cheese. Add milk and mix only until dampened. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas and knead gently 2 or 3 times. Divide dough in half; roll each half out to 1/8-inch thickness.

Cut with floured coffee can lid or large cookie cutter; prick each cracker well with a fork. Place on ungreased cookie sheets; sprinkle half with poppy seeds and remainder with sesame seeds. Bake in preheated oven (425 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes.

For that relaxed repast in "the shade of the old apple tree," here is a pleasant menu for a hot-day luncheon:

Hearty vegetable - meat salad, munchin' crackers, fresh strawberries and sour cream, iced tea or iced coffee.

Cornstarch Gives Scots Shortbread Texture

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Men who do distaff-side cooking a favor and occasionally prepare a favorite dish usually have their specialties.

A man we know is an expert on meat croquettes. Other acquaintances have taken these for their province: beef birds, Caesar salad, Roquefort dressing, gazpacho, Hungarian goulash, yeast bread, crepes.

Now a reader writes that he yearns to bake shortbread, but wants the recipe to bear the strong imprint of his Scottish ancestry.

A delicious matter to delve into! For comparison purposes we tasted various brands of imported shortbread and looked into Scottish cook books. One of the books gives no less than six shortbread recipes; the following rule is based on one including cornstarch because that product used widely in the British Isles, helps to give a desired texture.

Scots Shortbread
Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 3/4 cup cornstarch, 1/2 cup (1/4 pound) butter, 1-3 cup sugar.
Method: Sift together the cake flour and cornstarch. Cream butter and sugar until the consistency of whipped butter.

Add sifted dry ingredients gradually until dough is stiff enough to work with hands. Knead in remaining dry ingredients until well blended and dough forms a ball. Shape into a round cake (about 7 inches in diameter) on a cookie sheet. With a knife score almost through to make 8 pie-shaped wedges; with fork tines prick in an even pattern and flute edges or press.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 275 degrees and continue baking for 30 minutes. Allow to cool about 5 minutes before removing from cookie sheet.

When thoroughly cool wrap in waxed paper and store in air-tight container. For lengthy storage put container in refrigerator; cookies may be reheated in slow oven, then allowed to cool and re-crisp.

Dutch Cherry Pie Draws Raves

Americans, known for what has been called an "inordinate admiration of pie," have neglected a luscious member of this branch of the dessert family.

Let the English have their sweet cherry tarts (made in large flange rings) and the French their elaborate tarts (made from puff paste or kneaded dough). There's nothing like an American open-face sweet cherry pie with the fruit gleaming between strips of golden-brown pastry.

Although lattice tops for our open-face pies are sometimes woven, we find it easy and quick to place the strips straight across the filling in one layer. Use a pastry wheel to cut the strips and you'll have an attractive pinked effect. Don't forget that brushing the top pastry with heavy cream or egg yolk diluted with a little water helps the pie achieve a mouth-watering golden color.

If you have no pastry canvas, you can use a sturdy firmly-woven (part linen) towel for rolling out the dough. Rub flour into the towel just for this purpose so that they Keep one or two of these towels just for this purpose so that they retain their firm texture.

Dutch Cherry Pie
Ingredients: Pastry for 2-crust (lattice top) 9-inch pie, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 to 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 cup orange juice, 3 cups halved pitted dark sweet cherries, 2 eggs.
Method: Line pie plate with pastry. Mix together thoroughly the sugar, flour, grated lemon rind and grated orange rind. Add lemon juice, orange juice and cherries, 2 eggs.

Beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites. Stir into cherry mixture. Turn into the pie shell. Roll out remaining half of pastry; with pastry wheel cut strips 1/2 inch thick and long enough to fit across pie plate.

Arrange over cherry mixture to edge of pie plate rim; cut off any overhang. With fork, crimp edge. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven for 40 to 45 minutes.

Cucumber Salad

Ingredients: 2 cucumbers (each about 8 inches long), 2 medium-sized carrots, 1/4 cup olive oil, 1/4 cup red wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons sugar, romaine or other salad greens.

Method: Pare cucumbers; run the sharp tines of a fork lengthwise down them; slice thin. With swivel-blade vegetable peeler cut pared carrots crosswise in thin ovals.

In a wide container beat together thoroughly with a fork the olive oil, vinegar, salt and sugar; mix in cucumber and carrot slices.

Cover and refrigerate at least 1/2 hour. Serve on romaine. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Minted Green Peas

Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/4 cup chopped fresh mint leaves.

Method: Cook peas according to package directions using the amount of boiling water and salt called for; drain.

Stir in butter and mint over very low heat; mint will darken but flavor peas deliciously. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings; double recipe if desired.

Asparagus Soup

Ingredients: 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed cream of vegetable soup, 1 jar (13 1/2 ounces) all-green asparagus, 1 tablespoon onion soup mix (from an envelope).

Method: Turn condensed cream of vegetable soup (undiluted) into a medium-sized saucepan. Add liquid from asparagus to soup can; fill can with water; slowly stir or whisk into vegetable soup. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally.

When almost hot add asparagus stalks (cut into 1-inch lengths); save asparagus tips for salad.

Stir in onion soup mix just as it comes from envelope, making sure you add a good portion of the small pieces of dry onion as well as some of the fine solids. Continue heating until very hot; the onion should stay crisp. Makes 4 servings.

PATROLMEN SAVES BOY
BARBERTON, Ohio (AP)—Patrolman Harold Landals was credited with saving the life of a four-year-old boy Wednesday by mouth-to-mouth breathing after the youngster suddenly stopped breathing.

The boy, Paul Waters, has been under doctor's care suffering from swollen neck glands. The patrolman answered a call at the home and while the boy was being rushed to a hospital more than a mile away, Landals administered the life-saving treatment.

Gas lights were introduced in ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—It was one of those kiddie movies and the theater was jammed with shouting and popcorn eating children. A young mother stood it as long as she could, decided she might find respite if she took her 5-year-old to the balcony. The movie completed, she got this observation: "Aw heck mom, they're showing the same picture up here."

Truman's Rigging Blast Has Fizzled Out Fast

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The only big Democrat to use a clever race in his party's presidential race is former President Truman who was never renowned for subtlety.
 Already he's beginning to look deserted and lonely. The only other weapons used up till now have been velvet sandbags.
 Truman last week tried to chop Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential chances to bits by implying the Massachusetts senator's supporters were rigging the Democratic National Convention which opens next week.
 It was a sensation for a moment but began to resemble a frustrated whisper as one after another of the top Democrats sought to disentangle themselves dicating to me there has been any rigging." He said to the best of his knowledge his people had been treated fairly on convention arrangements.

 This left it up to Johnson to trail along with Truman or disown his charges. Johnson, never a simple man, seemed to be on Truman's side and suddenly he didn't seem to be.
 The day after Truman had his say on Kennedy, Johnson leaped in on Truman's side, saying he agreed with the former president and accusing Butler of failing to consult him on convention arrangements. At that time, Johnson had not yet publicly admitted he was even a candidate for the Democratic nomination.
 But for lack of support Truman's attack on Kennedy began to look like a pale rider on a pale horse. By the time Johnson got around to announcing two days later he was a candidate, he had no complaint to make.
 This week Symington said, "there has been nothing to instance of rigging—this was the lanky Texan's big chance both to back up Truman and to help demolish Kennedy by citing some evidence of a fix, if he had it.

 But Johnson's answer was no. All three contenders—Kennedy, Johnson, Symington — have been more or less as gentle as cousins on each other, except in a back-handed way.
 Symington, in fact, has stayed so far back in the picture he's been almost out of it. His only hope for the nomination is that Kennedy and Johnson will knock each other out and there'll be nobody left but him.
 When Kennedy on July 4 answered Truman, by denying any knowledge of a fix, he stressed the need for a healthy young president. This could have been taken as a dig at Johnson who had a heart attack in 1955.
 That's just how some of Johnson's top aides took it and responded at once with a look who's talking kind of complaint. They said Kennedy hadn't always been so healthily bouncy.

 Whether or not they did this with Johnson's approval is not known. The Johnson forces might be able to damage Kennedy if his aides' attacked him while Johnson remained a symbol of sweetness and light.

damages at $1,200.
 A 20-year-old man also is implicated in the affair and is expected to be questioned today by the sheriff's deputies.
 About 200 million years ago there were huge insects such as cockroaches about 12 inches or more in length, on earth.

Boy, Man Questioned After Sawmill Blaze
 LISBON — A 14-year-old Wellsville boy is expected to have a hearing today before Judge Louis Tobin after he admitted starting a fire at a sawmill owned by George McPherson of Hanoverton, in Volino Hollow, just above Russell Heights, Wednesday evening.
 Wellsville fire department called the sheriff's office at 10:28 p.m. after they returned from the call to the sawmill. After the deputies' investigation the boy was picked up and admitted his part in the fire which McPherson estimated
